

Events

The Modern Independent Workforce: A Look at its Growth and the Role of Technology

JULY 30, 2015
12:00 PM

The American Action Forum is hosting a panel discussion entitled “The Modern Independent Workforce: A Look at its Growth and the Role of Technology” on July 30th at noon.

The event will focus on how technology has enabled individuals to become independent workers, the implications for the economy and businesses, and what policy response, if any, is needed to help this sector flourish.

Keynote

Maureen Ohlhausen, Commissioner, Federal Trade Commission

Panelists

Lori Bush, President and CEO, Rodan + Fields

Alan Krueger, Former Chairman, Council of Economic Advisers

Carl Pierre, Head of DC Operations, WeWork

Moderator

Eric Morath, Reporter, Wall Street Journal

When Thursday, July 30 at noon

Where: AAF Offices

1747 Pennsylvania Ave. NW

5th Floor

Washington, DC 20006

Lunch will be provided.