AAF Finds Administration's Final Retrospective Report Contains $22 Billion In Regulatory Costs

PATRICK HEFFLINGER | SEPTEMBER 21, 2016

The American Action Forum (@AAF) released new research examining the Obama Administration's final regulatory review. AAF found that while President Obama has signed executive orders aimed at removing red tape, the retrospective reports show the administration has added more than $22 billion in costs and increased paperwork by 17.1 million hours.
