As the 114th Congress takes on the challenge of addressing America's most pressing policy challenges, the American Action Forum today released an eBook of policy ideas and solutions. The policy topics addressed in AAF's eBook range from financial services to health care, from budget reconciliation to addressing the national debt, labor policy and beyond.

"The policy challenges facing the nation are great, but the opportunities for positive change are abundant," said Douglas Holtz-Eakin, President of the American Action Forum. "My hope is that this eBook helps inject into the debate forward-thinking ideas and solutions that will help build a stronger economic future."
