Fiscal Year 2019 Regulatory Budget Results

ALLISON EDWARDS | DECEMBER 6, 2019

The Trump Administration released the results of its fiscal year (FY) 2019 regulatory budget, showing a third consecutive year of net savings. AAF's Director of Regulatory Policy Dan Bosch has analyzed these numbers and assessed their implications for the administration's current regulatory agenda.

An excerpt:

> The Trump Administration says it achieved its FY 2019 savings by issuing 150 deregulatory actions versus 35 significant regulatory actions — a 4.3-to-1 ratio, well ahead of the goal of two-for-one established in Executive Order 13,771. When comparing significant actions only, the ratio falls to 1.7 to 1.
>
> Among individual agencies, 18 of 25 met or exceeded their regulatory budget goal for FY 2019. The top savers were the Department of Health and Human Services ($11.4 billion), the Department of Labor ($8 billion), and the Department of Education ($3.1 billion).
