Immigrants With Investor Visas Have Invested Over $20 Billion Into the U.S. Economy

PATRICK HEFFLINGER | JANUARY 24, 2018

As President Trump seeks changes to the U.S immigration system, existing visa programs are facing scrutiny. Today the American Action Forum released an analysis examining the EB-5 foreign investor visa program. While AAF's research found thoughtful reforms should be considered to increase transparency, on the whole, the program has significant benefits. AAF's Jacqueline Varas highlights the $20 billion economic contribution immigrant investors have made to the U.S. economy since 2008, $5 billion of which was in 2017 alone. Projects associated with EB-5 investments are estimated to have created over 174,000 jobs. The program is scheduled to lapse on February 8th if not extended by Congress.
