New Podcast Episode: The SEC's Unprecedented Growth of Regulatory Actions

OCTOBER 19, 2023

It's The AAF Exchange — your source for clear, data-driven insight into today's economic and domestic policy issues.

In this episode of the AAF Exchange, Director of Financial Services Policy Thomas Kingsley discusses the Securities and Exchange Commission's unprecedented pace and scope of regulatory actions under Chair Gary Gensler.

AAF products mentioned in today's episode:

- In “Overreach at the SEC,” Kingsley reviews the SEC's most significant rulemakings under Chair Gensler and considers their ramifications for the agency itself, the entities it regulates, and the wider economy.
- In “The Stealthy SEC in Action,” AAF President Douglas Holtz-Eakin walks through the SEC's sweeping, costly, and unneeded reworking of financial markets.
- In “Financial Stability and AI,” Holtz-Eakin discusses the SEC's interest in regulating artificial intelligence.
- In “SEC Launches Major Crypto Offensive With Lawsuits Against Binance and Coinbase,” Kingsley walks through the policy implications of the SEC's lawsuits against crypto industry giants and the need for a clearly defined crypto regulatory apparatus.
- In “CRA Tracker: Congressional Review Act in the 117th Congress,” AAF tracks the status of Congressional Review Act resolutions, which allow Congress to effectively void rules promulgated by federal agencies.

Whether you're on your lunch break or commuting home, The AAF Exchange will keep you up to speed on today's most pressing policy issues.
