AAF has catalogued regulations according to their codification in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The CFR is organized into 50 titles, with each title corresponding to an industry or part of government. This snapshot will help to determine which sectors of the economy receive the highest number of regulatory actions.

The Department of Health and Human Services published another ICD delay, which will cost private entities and local governments roughly $4 billion. The rule imposes no new paperwork requirements, but it would impose unfunded mandates on private entities.

The administration proposed a requirement on federal contractors to help “eradicate compensation discrimination.” Contractors will now have to supply wage data by sex, race, ethnicity, and certain job categories. The measure could impose $33 million in upfront costs, with $12 million in annual costs. It also adds approximately 400,000 paperwork burden hours.

AFFORDABLE CARE ACT

There were no notable health care rulemakings this week. Since passage, based on total lifetime costs of the regulations, the Affordable Care Act has imposed a cost of \$27.5 billion in private-sector burdens, approximately $11.7 billion in costs to the states, and 162.1 million annual paperwork hours.

DODD-FRANK
