Never Say Die

JACKSON HAMMOND | JULY 8, 2022

If you've recently been feeling stuck in a time loop, where events just repeat themselves endlessly, you're not alone. Congressional leadership has decided, once again, to try to pass legislation using the fast-track reconciliation process. This includes the Senate Finance Committee's latest attempt at price controls for prescription drugs covered under Medicare. There have been some changes since the committee's last drug pricing proposal as part of the Build Back Better Act, some large and some small.
